Banks NPLs surge to 21.8% – BoG

The banking industry's Non-Performing Loans (NPL) ratio increased to 21.8% in December 2024, up from 20.6 percent in December 2023.

According to the Bank of Ghana, the elevated credit risk remained the main upside risk to the banking sector. However, the banking sector remained strong, robust and liquid. This was supported by improved domestic macroeconomic conditions.

Conclusion/Recommendation

Given the current trend in auction results, we expect the government to surpass its target in the upcoming auction, with marginal declines in interest rates across all short-term securities. We recommend that investors consider subscribing to the 182-day Treasury Bill, as rates are anticipated to decrease further.
